DANCE HALL BILL CAUSES MUCH TALK IN SOME CIRCLES

"TYING UP THE TOWN" IS COMPLAINT OF WIDE-OPENERS.

BAR THE HIPPER'S Pocket Booze Carriers Left Out—Provisions of the Ordinance.

Introduction of Councilman George A. Jacobs' ordinance to license and regulate public dances and dance halls has caused considerable discussion generally in the city—some urging its passage as it stands, others advocating modification to make it less drastic and a third group failing to see any necessity for such an ordinance, and opposing it as "tying up the town."

Besides requiring public dances to close at midnight, except by special permit, the ordinance would make it

COUNTY MUST LICENSE PUBLIC DANCE HALLS

Madison.—With the governor's signature Wednesday to the new law, Wisconsin counties were empowered to enact ordinances for the regulation of dance halls and places of amusement. This measure was sponsored as a move against vice conditions said to exist in some parts of the state. Under provisions of the new law, all dance halls, carnivals, beaches, and places of public amusement will have to be licensed by the county. Supervisors are to be named to inspect and enforce the ordinance. Heavy fines, together with revocation of licenses stand as penalties to any who would violate the ordinance.

MARION MARRIAGE IS INDIANA'S CASE

No Wisconsin Action Possible—Church Here to Rebuild Morale.

Any steps taken in regard to the marriage of the Rev. Leland L. Marion, former pastor of the Janesville Christian church, to Mrs. Lela Sarow, divorced wife of Benjamin Sarow, will have to be made by the Indiana, Ind. church and the authorities of Indiana, it is apparent. Judge Griffin, who divorced Mrs. Sarow last March, upon her plea of non-support, said when interviewed that the marriage of the couple will never be legal in Wisconsin, because Mrs. Sarow married before the year had expired. Whether the couple is legally married depends on what construction is made in the Indiana marriage laws.

No Action Here

Oscar Brown, of the official board of the First Christian church which held a meeting Monday night, said no action can be taken by the Janesville church in the matter, even if desired, as under the Christian church organization the local parish deals entirely with the pastor, there being no large governing body. Start Rebuilding Church
The ones who stood by Mr. Marion throughout all his trouble have been greatly shocked and he has probably lost all of his friends here, said Mr. Brown. He will start work to agitate the church and rebuild the church. There again will be harmony, and that the majority of those who have been stung away will return. I do not refer to the Second Christian church, for I do not know what it will do.

CHICAGO MAN IS SHOT AND KILLED BY WOMAN BANDIT

WANTON CRIME COMMITTED IN PRESENCE OF WIFE.

ARREST SUSPECT Enraged at Scanty Loot, Girl Slays Victim in Cold Blood.

Chicago.—Eugene Schlig, 31, was arrested on suspicion early Wednesday in connection with the slaying of Richard C. Tesmer, wealthy insurance man, at his home here Tuesday night. The suspect, who is being held for questioning, is believed by the police to know the identity of the girl and man who held up Tesmer and rode off with his automobile. After the girl had shot him down in the presence of his wife, outside the garage at their home. After firing the shot, the girl bandit snatched up a pistol from her companion, then leaped in the Tesmer's automobile and drove away. Two hours later the abandoned machine was found not far from the scene. It was not clear to the police who the couple nor clue to their identities.

Committed by Woman

The slaying, characterized as without a trace of remorse, was the first committed by a woman bandit in Chicago. Tesmer was returning home with his wife, after a short visit with her sister. When he started to back his automobile into the garage, the girl and man stepped out from the shadows and commanded the couple, at the point of pistols, to put their hands up and get out of the car. Her companion stood silently by as the girl searched both captives. The purses of Mr. and Mrs. Tesmer, yielding only a small amount of money, the girl demanded. Tesmer, but scorned the watch which Tesmer promptly handed over. The girl bandit sharply reprimanded her companion when he began to search Mrs. Tesmer for concealed valuables.

Man Shot Dead

As she directed her attention to a search of Tesmer's pockets, the robber turned again to Mrs. Tesmer and struggled with her in an attempt to force her wedding ring from her finger. "Please don't take that off," pleaded the terrified wife. "I haven't had it off my finger since we were married."

Arrested at Wife's Apartment

Arrested at his wife's apartment, Tesmer, with uplifted hands, twitched helplessly. Without a word, the girl bandit swung her pistol around and fired one shot. He fell, dying instantly.

Why We Sell
NAVARRE PEARLS

CHARACTER is quite as essential to the commercial institution as to the individual; a reputable merchant is judged by his wares—by the dependability of the merchandise he sells.

We asked for, and secured, the exclusive agency for Navarre Pearls because we knew much of their high character; because we were acquainted with the financial responsibility and unassailable integrity of the firm back of them; because we knew that Navarre Pearls would meet the exacting requirements of our discriminating clientele, and not merely maintain, but enhance our reputation as purveyors of the absolute best. Our displays are completely satisfying; your early inspection is cordially invited.

Before You Sleep

Go get this free tube and use it
Then watch it combat the film on teeth

This is to people who are missing benefits which millions now enjoy. There is a new way of teeth cleaning. It is used by careful people of some 50 nations, largely by dental advice.

It means whiter, prettier teeth, better tooth protection. It means fighting the teeth's enemies more effectively.

Your dealer will give you a ten-day test. Go ask him for it. Test this new method now.

Don't leave that film

You can feel on your teeth a viscous film. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The tooth brush, used in old ways, has left much of it intact. That's why so many had dingy teeth, decay and other troubles.

Food stains, etc., discolor film. Then it forms cloudy coats. Tartar is based on film. That is why teeth lose luster.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. That was almost universal.

Germes breed by millions in film. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. And that became alarmingly common.

Their greatest enemy

Film was the teeth's chief enemy. Very few escaped its harm. So dental science long sought ways to fight it. Eventually two ways were found. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

And authorities proved these methods effective. Then a new-type tooth paste was perfected to apply them twice a day. That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. Now it has come into world-wide use, largely by dental advice.

New in several ways

Pepsodent brings other new effects which research proves essential. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Old-time tooth pastes brought just opposite effects. They reduced these natural tooth-protecting agents.

The New-Day Dentifrice

A scientific tooth paste based on modern research, free from harmful grit. Now advised by dentists the world over, because of its unique effects.

BLIND GRADUATES GIVEN DIPLOMAS

20 Also Given Special Certificates at State School Commencement.

Following exercises at the school gymnasium Tuesday night, which closed the third graduation activities, five students received diplomas from the state school for the blind, presentation being made by Supt. J. T. Hooper.

Those who were graduated from the literary department of the school, which is considered completing the entire course. Others were awarded diplomas, or certificates, from various departments, they being:

Sewing—Corra Synas, Dorothy Burke, Osa Lancer and Frances Lowry.

Cooking—Bernice Tondreau, Sophronia Peterson and Dorothy Burke. Tuning—Lloyd J. Cole. Baking—Bernard J. Kemmeter, Lea M. Lasec, Ernest Ek, Martin Lange and Edna Smith.

Hammocks—Emil Arndt.

Weaving—Julia Hoppe, Erma Speckman, Harvey Sorenson, Frances Lowry, Kenneth Heath and Archie D. Tarkin.

Orations Are Given

Tuesday night's program opened with Schubert's "March Militaire" and the orchestra, which was closed the program with "The Thunderer," by Sousa, and an encore. Other musical numbers were a vocal solo, "The Children's Song," by Edna Smith; a piano solo, "Caprice Espagnole," by Helen Patterson; and a chorus, "Gipsy Life," Rev. Dean J. Ryan spoke the invocation.

Orations given by graduates were salutatory, "The Highway System of the United States," Halbert Giddings; "Our Coal Problem," Helen Patterson; "The Land of the Future," Lloyd Cole; Wisconsin's Lumber Situation," Gladys Mattice; and valedictory, "Wisconsin Highways," Edna Smith. All were given with fine fortunes, and a case, this spoke of many week's preparation.

Hooper's Big Aim

"My biggest work while I have been here," said Supt. J. Hooper, in addressing the large audience and class preparatory to presenting the diplomas, "has been to educate blind students people who can accomplish things that make sighted people take the right attitude toward the blind, who do not want sympathy, but an equal chance with sighted persons, then I will have accomplished more than any superintendent in the world. Teaching blind people is easy; it is teaching the sighted friends, neighbors and relatives that is difficult. People would give the blind an opportunity to show how accomplished they are, there would be no such thing as a blind person who is a burden. You blind have one handicap that you cannot hide—you sighted people perhaps have many, but you can hide yours. The blind have but one—they cannot get about in the strange place."

Supt. Hooper urged the class to carry out his motto "Strive to be better than you are." He said that it will be easier for the next blind person who comes along, "he said, 'Show what accomplishments you can attain and make a better future for other blind people.'"

Following the exercises, friends and relatives enjoyed a reception in the superintendent's home.

Musical Recital Enjoyable

The annual musical recital of the Wisconsin school for the blind, in connection with the commencement exercises, was given Tuesday night and the character of the solo work and numbers by the orchestra and chorus lived up to the reputation the school has developed.

600 Pupils Will Appear in Song Festival Tonight

In addition to chorus numbers of great volume, which will be sung by almost 600 children at the junior song festival, which will be held at 8 p. m. Wednesday, there will be piano and song numbers with only a few on the stage, and a variety of other features. The festival will be held at the school, and will be a most interesting and enjoyable affair.

In the salutation of the Indian made to the audience Tuesday night, will be Heloise Lindeman, Margaret Egbert, Dorothy Woods and Lois Blackford, appropriately dressed in Indian costume. Later in the program, where an old English folk song, "Oh, No John," comes in, there will be a dramatization of the story of John and Rebecca Porter. A double quartet will sing several numbers, this consisting of Gladys Clement, Virginia Finch, John Schuch, Lucille Hubbard, Lyle Wood, Lyle Whitham, Kenneth Moore and Donald Van Pool.

Harold Rasmussen will carry the solo part in the "Capital Ship," which will be sung by the choir and in a violin ensemble number, ten pupils of Mrs. Eber Arthur, will play. The whole program promises to be a most interesting and enjoyable affair.

Judges Decide to Meet in Waupaca

County judges of Wisconsin, invited to hold their annual meeting here at the same time as the Wisconsin Bar association convention, have voted to meet at Waupaca June 21-22, a referendum shows. Judge F. J. C. Karel, Milwaukee, is the president.

FRANCE READY TO REJECT NEW OFFER ON REPARATIONS

After discussion Wednesday by the heads of the French and Belgian governments in Brussels, is printed by the Associated Press.

According to this abstract, the Belgian plan fixes the total indemnity to be collected from Germany at forty billion gold marks, with 10 billion on the debt computed at forty percent interest, plus a one percent sinking fund, making the German payments work out at 2,800,000,000 gold marks a year.

To meet these payments, revenues from the German state railways from special monopolies and coal deliveries, are proposed—one billion gold marks from the railways, 1,500,000,000 from the special monopolies and 340,000,000 from coal deliveries. The monopolies proposed, which are sale of tobacco, sparkling wines, beer, still wines, spirits, sugar, salt, matches and lighters, and electric apparatus.

The monopolies will be assigned to the reparations commission, which will turn them out to private syndicates, including German interests.

GOVERNMENT HAS TO OBTAIN INFORMATION

Washington—It was said at the state department that no information regarding a Belgian reparations plan had been communicated to the United States government, and that the state department had no means of knowing whether or not the summary published in New York Wednesday was correct.

Represent Blaine Ideas
The new bills offered in the form of sub amendments to the joint resolutions, represent the government's tax ideas. They vary only in a few particulars from his original bill, which was recommended for introduction by the finance committee.

The senate Tuesday night adopted, 18 to 10, the Canadian resolution denouncing an attempt of the United States to enter the League of Nations or to be associated with the world court.

SENATORS AGAIN DELAY SHOWDOWN ON TAX MEASURES

move, agreement was reached that the bills be taken up Friday.

Consideration of the finance committee revenue bill occupied most of the morning. Five attempts at amendment were defeated before the measure was finally brought to an issue. At this time the administration majority was in their sub to throw over any action.

The first amendment, offered by Senator Henry Roethe, Fenimore, would have restored the complete personal property offset to the bill. This was killed, 18 to 12, by the following vote:

For complete offset: Benfer, Burke, Clark, Czerwinski, Getteman, Kuckuk, Lange, Morris, Schuch, Smith, Wenden, White—43.

"Double Punishment" for Liquor Violations.

Friends of the wets in looking about for some valid excuse for Governor Al Smith's repeal of the enforcement law, have hit on the "double punishment" idea as one which the "gullible will swallow easiest. The Chicago Tribune, echo of the New York World, in its attitude against prohibition, makes much of this. Governor Smith himself barely touched upon it. It was not a large factor in the legislative debates preceding the passage of the repeal bill, which was accomplished by the back-sliding of one senator from Staten Island after Tammany had used its club on him. There was another bill covering this point—a bill having to do with court procedure
—but the double punishment, that is, one arrest
under state law and another for the same offense
under the federal law, was not considered deeply
as a reason why the bill was signed. Governor Smith said, and it was printed in the Gazette at the time, that what he wanted was the glad day when he "could put his foot on a brass rail and blow off the froth." In the inconsistency with which the whole attempt to defeat the prohibition amendment is smattered, the governor says he does not want the saloon to come back. That is puzzling, since the governor cannot blow off the froth and stand with his foot on a brass rail elsewhere than in a saloon—no matter whatever name it may have.

While admitting that the governor was entirely within his constitutional rights in signing the bill, yet the very act itself has been taken up with solemn argument for the right of a state
to determine for itself how far it will go in supporting federal laws. The Chicago Tribune, once the bold and unflinching advocate of Union in the critical days before the Civil War, says, "It is a wise doctrine that when the solidity of nation
is not threatened by the difference of opinion, the people of the state should rule themselves and the American people have recognized this. They endorse it even by consenting to the nullification
of the constitution where they see that actualities
and realities do not conform to the federal law."
If the Tribune were a newspaper any longer
held in high esteem for its editorial attitude on any subject, that sentence would rise up a thousand times to condemn it. It goes no farther than John C. Calhoun when Jackson said he would hang him and the others guilty of an attempt at nullification as "high as Haman." It violates every trust of faith which Joseph Medill had in his government.

There can be no such doctrine without endangering the "solidity of the union." That nullification is a crime has been written in blood and settled finally and forever in courts—the defined and fixed rights of the states, so far and no farther, in regard to membership in the union.
Nullification of the constitution on the slave
issue was no greater crime than the nullification
on the prohibition issue. To summon the 14th and 15th amendments as witnesses and the states
of the south as an example in their attitude toward them has nothing to do with the matter in hand. There is no distinct parallel. However,
it may be said that in neither of the amendments named is there mention of concurrent jurisdiction. There is an inhibition on the states and whatever laws have been made in reference to civil rights have had review in the supreme court
and been upheld in an orderly and judicial manner. It is impossible in this new nullification to hide behind this straw man raised for the purpose
of palliating an admitted nullification of the constitution. The burden of proof does not rest on the government, when the accused pleads guilty,
and the excuse for a crime that "some one else
does it" is not valuable in mitigation, as the Tribune should know.

Speaking of platform pledges, what is the matter with the word "economy?" Has the "e" page
been torn from the dictionary?

"Nature Lovers."
Daring has a cartoon in which he shows "Lovers
of Nature" breaking down fences, tearing
trees with flowering branches, limb from limb,
leaving debris all over the place and the remnants
of picnic parties along the banks of a beautiful stream. It is quite timely and to the point. Nature Lovers—the "Oh, how I do like the great outdoors," kind who have no consideration for the rights of others, are as much a part of the lawless and disrespectful as the ruthless bandits
who have only gone a step or two farther. They are responsible for the rapidly restricted opportunity for picnicking. Owners of shady groves,
roadside places which invite, are entirely justified
in putting up "No Trespassing" signs and enforce-ing the rule.

We have played at vandalism so long that no

other things taught in the curriculum of human

To Formulate An Indian Policy

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN

Washington.—Determined to settle once for all the question of what shall be the policy of the United States Government toward the Indians of the nation, Secretary of the Interior Robert Work has appointed a committee of one hundred prominent citizens to advise with him on a constructive program.
"For many years," Secretary Work says in his letter notifying the hundred citizens of their appointment to this committee, "the government has been engaged intermittently with having no policy,
or with expelling the Indian, or with acquiescing
in his extinction, or with permitting the dissipation
of his wealth."
"It is true that various societies, publicists, writers and others have lamented the subjugation of the North American Indian and have regretted
that an industrial age has driven the aborigines
from their ancient hunting grounds. The fact is accomplished and cannot be undone. The country will not be given back to the Indians. There is a keen sentimental appeal, however, in the fact that the forests, hills and plains where once the Indian roamed, free of any but his natural enemies, have been usurped by the white man. What Secretary Work wants to do is to query the national conscience on this point by making sure that the Indian is getting a square deal.
"The Indians, many having acquired wealth,
with their citizenship rights, allotted lands, agricultural development, schools, religions and diseases, present an appeal more acute than ever before," says Secretary Work, who, in his capacity as Secretary of the Interior, is the supervisory officer of the Indian Office.

"Although the Indian Bureau has recently received encouraging approval from advised sources
of its altruistic attitude, the present Secretary of the Interior," Mr. Work continues, "desires to plan
the best possible policy in its relation to these people and execute it in a manner that will work
the greatest good."

To enable the committee to give the best study
possible to the problem, Secretary Work has provided each member with an accumulation of data on the present position of the Indian in American national life. This information is of absorbing interest as showing what progress the Red Man has made from the times when he wandered throughout the land armed with bow, arrow and tomahawk.

"The Indian population is 340,917, an increase of 13,500 in ten years. There are 200 Indian reservations and 193 Indian tribes which speak 53 different languages. This is the body of people which in the United States which constitutes the Indian problem.

Five million dollars are expended annually by the government for educating these Indians in schools and colleges so that they may enjoy and appreciate the benefits of modern civilization and know how to use the improved economic conditions which the white man's occupation of the country has brought them.
This education has varying effects. Washington is a mecca for the Indian. He knows this is the seat of his Great Chief and he comes here to see the White Teepee whenever he can.
Two distinguished United States senators, who take pride in their Indian ancestry, conform in all respects to the modern conception of civilization. On the other hand, one often sees in the streets of Washington, typical North American Indians, both men and women, who, though they have enjoyed the advantages of government
schools, betray no signs of modern American standards in dress and manners. Not infrequently
the streets of the national capital are brightened
by groups of full-blooded Indians, garbed in brightly colored blankets, with long, braided
hair and adorned with strings of wampum beads.

Some of these who compromise between the two civilizations present the most notable appearance. The men will wear, perhaps, rather usual looking citizens' clothes, but will have some distinctive bit of apparel, such as an Indian headdress, strings of beads or decorated moccasins.
Others will wear blankets, but brilliantly shined
modern shoes and hat. The women who compromise between the habits of the races are the most curious.

Recently there was in Washington, a delegation of Indian women. They wore no hats and their black hair fell down their backs in tight
braids. They wore the most gaily colored blankets ever seen on the streets of Washington.
But, they also wore, as a tribute to their modern American schooling, high-heeled slippers and black silk stockings.

There are 11,963 Indian children of school age,
6,279 of whom are ineligible for attendance and 20,746 of whom are not in school. The remainder are studying. Government boarding and day
schools number 281 and have an enrollment of 24, 222; the 31 mission schools have 6,479 enrolled;
the state public schools are educating 34,301, making a total enrollment of 64,943.
Two-thirds of the Indians of all ages are American citizens. About 50,000 of both sexes are voters. Some 240,000 Indians still remain under the guardianship of the government, but, under a ruling of the supreme court, it is possible for Indian wards to be citizens.

The most important group of Indians is comprised in the five civilized tribes, numbering 701, 000. All members are citizens and the 2,200
members of the Osage tribe are citizens.
Indians have been allotted a total of 38,000,000 acres of land. There are 227,000 who hold this and 125,000 who have not been allotted land.
Thirty-five million acres remain to be allotted.
Indian farmers number 40,062 and they have 399,700 acres under cultivation. More than 44,
000 Indians live in permanent homes and the Indians own $35,000,000 worth of cattle.
Probably the most valuable product which has been recovered from Indian lands is oil. In 1922
there were nearly 30,000,000 barrels of oil recovered from the lands of the Osage nation. The Osages received $11,700 per capita in royalties
from this oil last year. Many are millionaires.
A total of $11,823,530 has been received by the Osage nation from oil lands. The oil production on the lands of the Five Civilized Tribes in Oklahoma amounted in 1922 to 8,200,000 barrels.
The Indians have 1,392,379 acres of irrigable
land and 265,000 acres actually irrigated. Projects under construction cover 605,000 acres. Indian lands have an estimated stand of 35,000, 000,000 board feet of timber worth $100,000,000.
The value of all Indian property is estimated at $1,000,000,000. Also, the government has appropriated a total of $425,000,000 for the benefit of the Indians.

opoly on the business. The Baden Aniline and Soda Works made a 300 per cent dividend for 1922 as against 30 per cent for 1921. That is an other industry which has right of way in Germany. Polish prices are 800 times what they were before the war. No country in the world is so inviting for monopolies just at this time as is Germany.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

WEANING THE BABY.
Her tears are very near today.
There's sorrow in her eyes
For they have ordered her away
Whenever the baby cries.
There's little beauty in the sun
However fair the day be,
For now the mother has begun
The weaning of the baby.

No more upon her gentle breast
That little face may lie,
No more that little nose be pressed
Against her food supply;
No more by night, no more by day,
That wonder of the baby's way,
This shadow falls across the day,
The weaning of the baby.

Oh, you may smile, but mother sighs,
And now she has to wean the baby.
She sees the look of pained surprise
In eyes that once were glad,
And in her throat a lump comes up
That's big enough to throttle.
Because her lovely baby must sup
Her dinner from a little teat.

No bottles can't sing lullabies
When tender babies dine,
Or read the love in little eyes
Which eagerly they shine.
And so she sadly says to me:
"I'll miss her fond caresses.
The cuddling ways which used to be,
Her tugging at my dresses."

"I'll miss her cry for me at night
And all her squeals of glee,
Her smile of welcome and delight
When she discovered me.
I'll miss the lie that holds me near
And long will every day be,
I'm sorry that the time is here
For me to wean the baby."

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOULTON.

At the conference in the country store the talk drifted to the work done by the various wives of the committee present.
"Well," continued Uncle Ez, "my wife is one in a million. She gets up in the mornin', milks seventeen cows, and gets breakfast for ten hard-working men before 6 o'clock, by heck!"

"She must be a very robust woman," volunteered the commercial traveler who happened to be present.

"No, stranger, she ain't what you'd call so strong; she's more pale and delicate-like.
Gosh!"—with a burst of enthusiasm—"if that woman was only strong, I don't know the work
she couldn't do!"

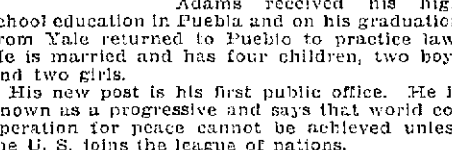

The bolshevists have denied the Creator, and we have every reason to believe that the feeling is quite mutual.

Who's Who Today

ALVA B. ADAMS.
Colorado's 1st prodigy of the fact that at last
it has a native son in the United States senate.
Alva B. Adams is that man. He was named recently by Gov. Sweet to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator D. C. Nicholson. He is the first Colorado-born man to fill
such a post.
Adams comes from a family of political famous men.
His father was three times
governor of his state and an uncle, Billy Adams, has been Democratic boss of Southern California for many years.
The new senator is known principally as a lawyer but is a brilliant speaker and a great student. Physically he is small—about five feet four inches tall.
He was born at Del Norte, Col., Dec. 23, 1875. Later his family moved to Alamosa.
Adams received his high school education in Pueblo and on his graduation
from Yale returned to Pueblo to practice law.
He is married and has four children, two boys
and two girls.
His new post is his first public office. He is known as a progressive and says that world cooperation for peace cannot be achieved unless the U. S. joins the league of nations.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

Lincoln and Failure.

When Abraham Lincoln was a young man he lost for the legislature in Illinois, and was badly swamped.

He next entered business, failed, and spent
seventeen years of his life paying up the debts
of a worthless partner.

In 1846 he lost to a beautiful young woman
to whom he became engaged—then she died.

Entering politics again, he ran for congress,
and was badly defeated. He then tried to get an appointment to the United States land office,
but failed.

He became a candidate for the United States
senate, and was badly defeated.

In 1856 he became a candidate for the vice-presidency and was once more defeated.

In 1860 he was elected by a landslide.
One failure after another—bad failures—great setbacks. In the face of all this he eventually became one of the greatest men of America,
whose memory is loved and honored throughout the world.

When you contemplate the effect of a series of setbacks like this, doesn't it make you feel kind of small to become discouraged, just because you think you are having a hard time in life?

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

June 6, 1883.—The third importation of full blood Clydesdale horses from Scotland arrived
here and were taken to the Galbraith stables,
on Bluff street, where many declared them to be the best yet brought here and rivaling
horses in America.—Clarence L. Clark and Carrie Hodge were married today.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

June 6, 1893.—After 20 years of almost continuous prosperity in this country, bankers at New York are having trouble, and some business depression seems imminent. All industries and banks in Janesville, however, are doing well
and no danger is predicted.—Janesville high school alumni will banquet the graduating class of 1893 at Columbia hall Friday.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

June 6, 1903.—For the first time since it was built, a marriage was performed in the city hall
yesterday. The principals were two Left River people, here for the picnic, and were married by Judge Charles L. Hefend.—Practically 20, 000 people were here yesterday for the Woodman picnic which, with prize drilling on Jackson street, an address in the park, parades and other attractions was declared a great success.

TEN YEARS AGO

June 6, 1913.—Madison, Milwaukee, Racine
and Sheboygan have the largest delegates at the U. C. T. state convention here. The big event of the convention—the parade—was held today.—
Rev. T. Thoreson, St. Paul, who has been called to the local Norwegian Lutheran church, will preach there Sunday morning.

THE NEW DIABETES REMEDY

The medicine called "Insulin," of which so much has been said in the last year, is a purified extract produced from the pancreas (sweet-bread) of the ox, in such form that it may be administered by hypodermic
injection about the time of each meal
for as long as the case may seem to require.

Pancreatic extracts have been used
for years in medicine, for diabetes
and for other conditions in which artificial aids, to digestion were required, but this new preparation is free from protein matter which is present in the ordinary pancreatic extracts and which would render hypo-
dermic administration in this way unsafe.

The new medicine was discovered
and worked out by Dr. F. G. Bantling, who at the time he conceived the idea
of preparing such a remedy, was assistant in physiology in Western University, London, Ontario. The idea occurred to him while he was reading
an article by another physician, Dr.
Barroon, describing some experimental work on the pancreas and its function in animals. In fact the new remedy is another in the long list of modern miracles of science for which we must thank the research workers in relation to animal experimentation in finding remedies for human afflictions.

The most striking results in the use of "insulin" in the treatment of diabetes have been obtained in the cases of children and young adults,
cases which heretofore have been hopeless. The effect of each hypo-dermic dose of the medicine, just before or at the time of the meal, is to enable the body to utilize, assimilate
and metabolize the carbohydrates (starches and sugars), a defective capacity to utilize which constitutes the disease, diabetes. The patient is allowed increasing quantities of these ordinarily forbidden or restricted
foods; by the aid of the regular dose
of medicine he utilizes or assimilates
the more liberal diet, gaining strength
and weight, finding a new appetite
and vigor, suffering less from thirst
day by day, and in fact recovering or developing fairly vigorous health.

As the patient improves the amount of carbohydrate food he may take and the weight he gains, and with it the amount of "insulin" must be increased to enable him to assimilate the food. Whether the hypodermic
injections may be eventually omitted
when the patient has recovered practically normal health, without a re-lapse to the former condition, is a question which cannot yet be answered. But even though the effect of the remedy is only temporary,

what a wonderful boon it is for young diabetics, particularly for those who have to undergo an operation and for those who have coincident disease
such as tuberculosis; heretofore it seemed almost impossible to fortify
or strengthen these patients since there was no means of enabling them
to utilize or assimilate sufficient food.
The discovery of "insulin" has assigned their rights in the product
to a committee of the University of Toronto; patients have been applied for in Canada, the United States and other countries. The committee of the university has made an agreement
with an American firm regularly engaged in the manufacture of such biological products to produce and market "insulin."

The administration of this medicine
requires special medical knowledge;
if administered without caution it is capable of producing grave consequences.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Sore foot—had the bone scraped
several times—a tendon back of heel
stretched—foot in plaster of paris for weeks—nature doctor put her on a diet, no meat or starchy foods, only
fruit and vegetables ten years ago
a day—another doctor said lemon
was the worst thing she could take. (S. I. B.) Answer—Vegetables are the starchy foods. It seems to be a complicated case. The condition described is evidently some infection of bone or joint in the foot, and probably too many neighboring friends taking a hand
in the treatment.

Just Plain Wheat.
Please tell me whether the proprietary article is in any way superior as a breakfast cereal to whole
grain wheat, which obtain and grind
and cook several hours. The proprietary preparation is more expensive,
but if my children and I are not getting any essential element or increasing the expense, which we should have, the expense won't matter. (T. B.)
Answer—I prefer the wheat ground and cooked as you describe. Certainly there can be no essential element
missing if you get just plain wheat
from farmer, feed or seed store and grind and cook as you describe.

I am 11 years old and I am crazy
for a bicycle. My father says it makes me thin or I would set run over.
My mother had one, and so did both my brothers, and my best chum has
one. I know my father will let me have one if I can get you to say bicycles don't do girls any harm. (Edith M.)
Answer—The danger of getting run down by an automobile is the only real objection. Bicycle riding is fine for girls, and next to a new pipe, I can think of nothing a dad can buy
that will do more for his daughter
than a new bike for his little daughter.

Q. Does a man-eating shark swallow the victim whole? How many rows of teeth has such an animal?
A. G. C.
A. Whether a man-eating shark swallows a person whole or tears him
in parts is a point of controversy.
However, the general supposition is that it tears off part of the body. This species of shark has six rows of teeth
when it is full grown.

Q. How much were the slaves
worth when the civil war began?
A. T.
The census bureau estimates
the value of slaves in southern states, 1860, at $1,500,000,000.

Q. How is acorn bread made?
A. L.
Nowadays leached acorn meal
is usually mixed with cornmeal, whole wheat or white flour, in the proportion of one part acorn meal to four parts of the other. Ordinary recipes are then used. Indians made acorn bread by making a thick mush from the meal. This was shaped into a loaf and turned into a coil, running down the water mill race, the mush shrink and harden. Placed on a rock to drain, it became harder and dry
and was ready to eat.

The entrance to their system of caves, which is a sort of open tunnel close to a mock structure of white rock resembling a Spanish Mission. It was named, I believe, by the Spaniards.

"I have a vague recollection of it," said Sheridan. "More than a vague one, as I think. The name should help."

"The name of the cave," said the man whooping, the raven, save Juan on his lame horse, caught up with the women coming out of the mouth of the first cave.

"Much of these cliffs is formed of clay. It burns and hardens, it weathers, leaches in the heavy rains that break there, breaks off by various causes, lower down, at nightfall, one of them, and great masses that look like broken bricks come charging down the cliffs. It was well after sunset, when they reached the cave. There was moon, and fires leaping within the cave mouth. No doubt it was cold."

"At all events, when the women and their escort were well within this open tunnel, Juan, arriving at its opening, turned in, heard a gathering sound as of thunder, and saw, rushing in clouds of dust, sweeping down the cliffs, tons of white, powdered clay. It rushed, swift as water, into the tunnel. It buried the men and the wagons, smothering their shrieks, trapping them, burying them deep, with the women waiting in the caves."

"Juan's wounded horse, stiffened with fright, broke out of the tunnel, and Juan, flung himself from the saddle, but too soon, for he was caught in the skirts of that earthy avalanche. He was struck upon the head. For him the horror ended, swiftly, the cries of the others had been silenced."

TODAY'S RECIPES

For the stuffed celery use some of the stuffy cheese that spreads easily. Mix it with a little butter, salt and pepper and fill the hollow celery.

Baked Meat Loaf—One and one-half pounds fresh round steak, ground, two eggs, 1/2 soda biscuits or matins, one teaspoon butter, salt and pepper to season, one-half cup tomato soup. The other half is used as a dressing for the mashed potatoes.

Roll the stuffing in the crumbs, mix with other ingredients, form a loaf, place in baking pan. Over the loaf pour two tablespoons of the tomato sauce and place two strips of bacon. Bake uncovered for 45 minutes in moderate oven.

Cream Prune Pudding—One cup chopped stewed prunes, one-half cup chopped nuts, one-half cup sugar, one tablespoon cornstarch, one egg, one-half cup prune juice, one cup milk.

Mix sugar and cornstarch, add slowly to heated milk and prune juice. When it boils and thickens add the egg and cook and stir to cool. Then add chopped prunes and nuts, cover with meringue from whipped egg whites. Bake in moderate oven.

Fruit Cocktail—One cup crushed pineapple, one orange cut in small pieces, two tablespoons grapefruit (white rasper in season), one-half cup sugar. This serves three.

Mix the fruit in large dish, cover with sugar and place on ice. This can be prepared first thing in the morning, allowing it to chill all day, then serve in tall sherbets and top with a maraschino cherry.

Mix Vermicelli—Prepare as many pieces of toast as persons you will serve. Hard boil as many eggs. Next prepare white sauce, pour over toast, slice eggs over this and garnish with parsley.

Stuffed Tomato—Select nice solid tomatoes, scoop out the centers, fill with finely chopped celery and pour over all boiled salad dressing.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mildest coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is inexpensive and keeps anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mildest is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dirt, and dandruff, and keeps the scalp and hair healthy.

Naturally my hair is straight. If left untouched, it would appear lustreless and flat. But years ago French experts told me how to keep it curly. Later, other experts told me how to give it sheen. Then finally they combined these two effects in a liquid. I call my Hair Dress.

I apply it with a tooth brush or comb. When my hair was long, it then wrapped it on curlers, and the curl would remain for a week. Now, with bobbed hair, I either use curlers or I simply comb the strands around, and I get instant wave and sheen.

I have tried Hair Dress on countless friends on the stage and in society. To the straightest hair it gives a lasting curl. To the dulliest hair it gives enduring gloss. So I know that wavy, glowing hair like mine can come to any woman.

Heart and Home Problems

Letters May Be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl nearly 13 and will be in high school next fall. Let me ask you a question. I am a LITTLE MOTHER'S CHILD and learned to take care of children. I want to take care of some of my baby's friends. This summer, but my mother is opposed to it because she thinks that after I have helped her with the housework and gone down town and cleaned father's affairs that I ought to reserve the afternoon for pleasure.

I do not want to do that though. I would rather take care of a baby. How can I get my mother's consent? Another problem is, will some mother let me take care of her child? I would not charge anything for it. Of course I am quite young, but I have taken care of babies a great deal and love children.

Please tell me how I can get my mother to understand that I do not want to have the afternoon for pleasure and if you think some one would let me take care of her child.

WHITEWATER GIRL.

It seems to me your mother is right in feeling that you ought to have your afternoon free for pleasure and play. To have charge of a baby would confine you too much. If I were you I would not let myself up to the mothers of babies you know that you would enjoy taking care of them occasionally, and probably you will have all of that sort of work you want to do. I am sure your mother would not mind your taking care of a baby occasionally. She feels, however, that to spend most of your afternoons that way would not give you the exercise and rest you need.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am, 20 years of age and have been engaged since December to a fellow four years my senior. I have asked him a couple of times when he thought he could marry and the only answer he gave me is when he gets money enough. Since we have been engaged he has not saved a cent, but spends everything he earns on himself.

Should I keep on with my company or not? A BRUNETTE.

It is evident from your letter that you are not satisfied and you lack confidence in your fiancé. Naturally you are worried, since he shows so little interest in marriage that he is not trying to save and get ahead. I seem to me that it would be well to break your engagement and remain friends until the young man is financially able to consider marriage. When you are not engaged, it would be advisable to have the other things too. I doubt if you are really sure of your love.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl in my teens and have been going with a fellow who is about four years older than I am. I realize now that I have made a mistake and although I want him for a friend I want to quit going places with him. How can I do this? I am attending places with him and get no make him angry with me? I am afraid if I refuse going places with him he will be angry.

ANNIOUS.

You are the kind of a girl who wants to eat your cake and keep it. Probably if you stop going with the fellow, his man his feelings will be hurt and he will want to forget about you. Since you no longer enjoy his company, however, I would advise you to make excuses when he invites you to places. After you have refused to go with him a few times he will realize that his company is no longer desired.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred is happy to advise all mothers about the care of their children of any age, or on any subject which does not belong in the field of the doctor.

The small booklet, "Care of the Baby," which is being sent to you, is a self-addressed and stamped envelope and asking for it.

PREPARATION OF MILK

When the baby is seven months old he should have one bottle feeding a day. Milk diluted with vegetable water. He needs this, not only because the vegetable water will be glad to depend on the loss of that one nursing period, but because the baby will be immeasurably benefited by both the milk and the minerals in the vegetable water.

This one bottle should be as carefully prepared as when the baby is on all milk. If he does not take all the milk, do not save it. But empty the bottle, rinse it with cold water, add one teaspoon of soda to a quart of water. Boiling nipples any more frequently makes them soft and unfit for use. Always use the nipples which can be reversed and washed thoroughly on both sides.

During the hot weather the mother can feel safer if she boils the baby's supply of milk. He may have orange or tomato juice diluted to offset any bad quality of boiled milk, and the precaution is a wise one in the city even when one is using good pasteurized milk.

Just Say Blue-jay

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. Stop the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in clear liquid and in thin plasters. The action is the same.

Beauty Chats

SWEETENING A BEAUTY EXERCISE

Sweeping is a beauty exercise, and so is bed-making, though I much doubt that housewives believe this. Perhaps I should say that sweeping properly done—is a beauty exercise.

For it isn't if the woman bundles herself over the broom and shoves away with flying dust to breathe in and to cover her hair, with her shoulders rounded and her chest flat.

If you are your own cook and housemaid you have at least one great advantage. Your time is your own. You may hurry along to give yourself extra time to rest, you may stop a bit after a lot of bending over to do a shoulder and arm exercise, and breathing exercises to take the crick into the strokes. But, like everything else, it will come easy with practice. As for bed-making—which I called a beauty exercise because it is good for the arms, waist and abdomen—there is no right and wrong way to do this—except as applied to the bed. The constant stooping and straightening makes your waistline slender, the pulling of covers strengthens and rounds the shoulders.

Housework generally takes away from one's beauty, but these two tasks are improving. For the rest, protect yourself as much as possible. Keep your hair covered when cooking or cleaning, and wear gloves over your hands for washing and scrubbing.

Twenty, Nine, H. A. B.—Unless you can have the superfluous hair removed through electrolysis, extract the coarse hairs by using a blunt needle and black thimble with perspiration. Of course this will have to be done whenever the hair appears above the skin. A cream made from vegetable oils will not cause this hair to grow.

May M. M. B. T. R.—The best way to cultivate your hair is to manage them regularly. If you give them a few minutes of care each day there need be no hair troubles at the end of the month. The buffing makes the hair circulate under them, and preventing the skin from growing over them gives a chance to grow.

Priscilla, S. G. S. W. P. R.—Perfected—I will be glad to mail you the formulas if you send a stamped, addressed envelope.

Dinner Stories

A musical conductor was going out on tour with a revue. He had been staying in New York attending rehearsals. With him he had two rather large grumps. He was not desirous of dragging them about all over the country and remarked to his landlady that he thought of leaving them in the left-luggage office at the Pennsylvania station.

His landlady happened to hail from Scotland. "And what will that cost you sir?" she asked.

"Oh, about 50 cents a week."

"The large bill you put in my hands in horror. 'You would have a fool to pay that a week,' she said. 'Why don't you pawn them and pay a dime a month?'"—Los Angeles Examiner.

HOME LIFE MENACED

Never in the history of the world has the life of the family as a social unit been menaced as it is today. So-called modernism has allowed women by opening up almost every profession and every line of industry which are perfectly justified if not abused and women have the health and strength to carry out their obligations in these matters. But now, when a woman is almost at the point of breaking from her household cares and the outside duties often means the breaking point, and homes are often neglected for the sake of the outside world.

Vegetable Compound made from roots and herbs benefits 35 out of every 100 women who try it, and let it help them.

Would Rather Fight Than Work

"I suffered for years with stomach trouble and could not eat and just hated for anyone to say to me, 'I would rather fight.' Since taking Doan's Kidney Pills, my stomach is all right. I actually want to work and talk about it. I am the last one to leave the table now." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the cause of all the trouble. ## HERE IN JANESVILLE

Are you tired out, rundown and simply have to drag yourself around? Are your little ones pale, delicate or lacking in strength and vigor? Unfortunately this is only too true in many homes of our city. To those who are weary and lagged out we bring a message of comfort. We have secured the agency for ORIGINAL VINOL—a splendid medicine for just such cases.

Why? Because we have faith in it, because outside of mere business we believe we can do a great deal of good here in our city. We recommend ORIGINAL VINOL because we know what it contains—the formula

LATEST MARKET REPORT

GRAIN

Chicago Review.
At the opening of the wheat market today, sympathy with an upward in Liverpool quotations, a decline was noted here. Reports of domestic crop conditions had a bullish effect, and the majority of purchasers appeared to be disposed to take a wait-and-see attitude. The start, which was varied from unchanged figures to a decline of 10c, was followed by a decline all around to well below Tuesday's finish.
Later in the market here developed considerable strength. Good European demand for Canadian wheat was reported and there were bullish advices from Great Britain, France and Italy.
Corn and oats were relatively firm, owing largely to eastern buying of July corn. After opening at 1 1/2c, the corn market scored a moderate general advance and then underwent some thing of a sag.
Subsequently, corn prices were sustained by the upturn in wheat values. Corn closed firm, with July, 82 1/2c; August, 82 1/2c; and September, 82 1/2c, all higher, July 82 1/2c.
Oats started unchanged to 1/2c lower. Corn 4 1/2c, later the market showed slight gains all around.
The provision market reflected the advices from Chicago, notwithstanding lower quotations on hogs.

City Kitten Ball League Formed With Six Teams Entered

PLAY FIRST GAMES ON NEXT TUESDAY; 10 WEEK SCHEDULE

Busy Man's Sport Page

By FRANK SINCLAIR

With enthusiasm running high, the first city kitten ball league was formed here Tuesday night with six organizations entering teams. The Lakota club, Knights of Columbus, Elks club, Parker Pans, Gazette and Kwanis club joined the circuit.

The first games are to be played next Tuesday night. All contests are to be staged at the fair grounds and will start at 8:15 p. m. A schedule calling for 10 weeks of play, each team meeting the other twice, was drawn up. It is possible that after the season is over, a team will be chosen to play teams from other cities.

An entrance fee of $5 is to be charged each team, this money to be used to defray grounds and equipment expenses. Each team is to provide its own bats and for the first game, one playground baseball.

Clubs were represented Tuesday at the meeting, which was held in the Gazette conference room, as follows: Lakota club, Ralph Souman; Knights of Columbus, Dr. Irving Clark and Lou Nolan; Elks, Earl Fuzzell; Parker Pans, Bruce Jeffers and Guyot; Gazette, Hank Schlegel and Frank Sinclair; Kwanis, Frank Trevorrath.

Committees were appointed by Dr. Irving A. Clark, chairman and moving spirit of the organization, as follows:

Grounds—Souman, Trevorrath and Fuzzell.

Equipment—Bruce, Nolan and Sinclair.

Team captains will form a grievance committee.

The schedule:

June 12—Lakota vs. Kwanis; Parker Pans vs. Gazette; Elks vs. K. of C.

June 19—Gazette vs. Lakota; Kwanis vs. Parker Pans; Kwanis vs. Elks.

June 26—Lakota vs. Gazette; Elks vs. Parker Pans; K. of C. vs. Kwanis.

July 3—Open on account of celebration.

July 10—Lakota vs. K. of C.; Parker Pans vs. Kwanis; Elks vs. Gazette.

July 17—Elks vs. Lakota; Parker Pans vs. K. of C.; Gazette vs. Kwanis.

July 24—Lakota vs. Kwanis; Parker Pans vs. Gazette; Elks vs. K. of C.

July 31—Gazette vs. K. of C.; Lakota vs. Parker Pans; Kwanis vs. Elks.

Aug. 7—Lakota vs. Gazette; Parker Pans vs. K. of C. vs. Kwanis.

Aug. 14—Lakota vs. K. of C.; Parker Pans vs. Elks; Gazette vs. Kwanis.

Aug. 21—Elks vs. Lakota; Parker Pans vs. K. of C.; Gazette vs. Kwanis.

WHEN JOE MCINNITY picked an inning or so against the Sanborn Tatters here a couple of years ago, the folks around her thought he was doing something. At that time he was 50 years of age. But just recently he has come back. His latest stunt has been to twirl four games in 11 days and to win them all. He has not been reached for more than five hits, and in one of them he gave only a couple. The scores of all his games have been small ones, his latest being a 2 to 0 shutout of Waterloo. In his early days, he earned the name of "Iron Man" when he pitched double headers for the New York Giants. He is 52 years old now.

"WHEN I WENT DOWN," said Johnny Kilbane after he lost his featherweight crown to the French battle-scarred fighter Ciqui (pronounced "Cree-kee"), "I was starting out, but my head cleared quickly, and I heard the count of five. Then I tried to get up. The old legs failed me. They quaked and I went down again. It's no use, Johnny," a little bird chirped. "You can't do it." So now I'm going back home, free from all the worries of a champion. And believe me, a champion's life isn't all through a field of flowers. Ciqui is a fine chap, he is a hero of the war and he is a great fighter. I wish him success. I'm glad that the title has passed on to such a man."

JOHN GARRETT, well known fight promoter of Rockford, has passed from the Port city and gone to Chicago. For 30 years, he has been a figure in boosting athletics in the Illinois town to the south. It was at this colored gentleman's place that Sammy Mandell, the crack bantam, got his start. Garrett went to the Windy city because he was director of the Olympia Athletic club. "Bill" Garrett, a youthful son of "Honk" will take over the Olympia club of Rockford and run it. Sox who is one of the finest athletes ever turned out at Rockford high, and that is saying something. He is hailed everywhere for his fine qualities of manhood and sportsmanship.

University of Chicago sent tennis team to compete in national intercollegiate matches at Philadelphia, June 25.

James Jolly, Vernon Tyler South-paw pitcher, released under option to Bloomington of three May league, by Los Angeles.

Diamond Sparkies (By A. P.)—Western teams of American League came into parks of eastern rivals Tuesday, not as a gentle breeze, but as tearing cyclone, winning two games and coming within one strike of a third—St. Louis against Philadelphia and Detroit against Washington.

Yankees into going 10 innings, finally succumbing in desperate effort, 7-6. —Yanks, having lost three straight, needed game and gave every ounce of power to win; it meant more than victory to them for St. Louis, with stronger attack than Sox, mauled Ed. Rommel, and won over Philadelphia, 19-3, giving Yanks wider margin.

Cleveland dropped before Boston with chance to slip into second place, 10-11. —Detroit shut out Washington, 3-0, victory giving Cubs' team look in on eastern contenders and pushing Philadelphia, Cleveland and Detroit into battle for second.

Giants beat Cubs 8-2, battling out victory after Boston, Baltimore, St. Louis, Philadelphia and St. Louis did not want Van Halst in the hot spot; Donahue and Tuthill in the high jump; Hamman and Johnson in the broad jump; and Nichols and Van Halst in the hammer throw.

Wisconsin went into the Conference meet without a single star, and secured in 11 events, showing that Coach T. E. Jones has developed a well balanced team. Newell and Wade had run in the hurdles and distance runs for three years but it was not until Saturday, the last meet of their collegiate career that they came through and won their "W."

Wisconsin has entered Newell and Tuthill in the high hurdles, Spots and Johnson in 100 and 220 yard dash; Rossmessel and Schneider in the mile run; Johnson and Hilbert in the 100 yard dash; Newell and Schneider in the 220 yard low hurdles; Ramsay, Vallery and Hilbert in the half mile run; Hamman and Kreiger in the mile run; Van Halst in the shot put; Donahue and Tuthill in the high jump; Hamman and Johnson in the broad jump; and Nichols and Van Halst in the hammer throw.

Indiana University won baseball game from Purdue, 10-6.

University of Washington baseball team defeated Carlton college, 4-1.

Thirty five universities and colleges have entered national intercollegiate track and field meet at University of Chicago, June 15 and 16.

Scraps About Crappers—Richie Mitchell, Milwaukee, decided to go to train for battle with Johnny Dundee at Milwaukee next Tuesday.

The latest publicity stunt is that Dempsey is slowing up; this given out to create the impression that Gibbons has an even chance, but actually it is an admission that Gibbons is weaker than Dempsey.

East Chicago, Ind., takes up the boxing cudgel, now that the Mitchell Leonard fight killed the game in Chicago. —Joe Jawson, Milwaukee lightweight, to sail on invasion of Australia—the best for the world's flyweight championship between Jimmy Wilde of England, title holder, and Pancho Villa, Philadelphian, postponed to June 18.

Willard-Fippo boat changed from July 7 to July 12.

Papyrus by Tracer, out of Miss Mayet, owned by B. Irish and ridden by American Jockey, Steve Donoghue, won classic Derby stakes Wednesday.

Lakotas Forming Kitten Ball Loop

An eight team kitten ball circuit is being formed by the Lakota club. Contests are to be played on Wednesday afternoons. These games will be in addition to the "first" team which the Lakotas will enter in the city league. Once a month the Lakota league games will be played at Lakota games.

BELOIT RUNNERS WILL GET LETTERS

Beloit—Thirteen honor letters were awarded by the Beloit college athletic committee Tuesday to members of the midwest and state champion track squad. 2:12 pace, Purse $500, 16 entries.

STUDENTS CHOOSE SUBJECTS FOR FALL

High school students have made their elections for next year, choosing what subjects they wish to take, and those will be compiled and made into a program which will cause the fewest possible conflicts. This probably will take some weeks on the part of Prin. W. W. Brown, and his aides, and will form a large part of the summer work. Other work will consist of usual record-keeping and making out the new permanent record cards. When the file of these is completed, information concerning every graduate, what the present address is, quality of his work while in school, and other details, will be easily accessible.
